Criminal law -- Traffic infractions -- Flashing headlights -- Statute which prohibits flashing lights on vehicles except turn signals and hazard flashers did not prohibit defendant from flashing headlights to warn other drivers of officer using radar to clock traffic speed -- Motion to dismiss granted

STATE OF FLORIDA vs. ALEXIS NICOLE CASON, Defendant.
County Court, 18th Judicial Circuit, Seminole County. Case No. 4549-DAK. April 28, 2005, nunc pro tunc April 11, 2005. Donald L. Marblestone, Judge. Counsel: Michael D. Jones, Michael D. Jones and Associates, P.A., Winter Springs.

ORDER OF DISMISSAL

This cause having come on to be heard April 11, 2005, and the Court having been fully advised in the premises, it is hereby ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that Defendant's Motion to Dismiss is GRANTED. The Court finds that Fla. Stat. 316.2397(7) does not prohibit a motorist from turning his or her headlights off and on, or turning his or her low beams to high beams, even if it is the motorist's intent in so doing to "warn" other motorists of the presence of a law enforcement officer who may be using a speed measuring device to "clock" vehicular traffic.
